"CLOUD 9" DOGWOOD

Discovered and developed on our own nursery. The ultimate perfection of loveliness in America's favorite small tree! Protected by plant patent #2112, issued Dec. 26, 1961. Extremely prolific and precocious—it is not unusual for a one-year tree to have 15 to 20 bloom buds. There are many reports from all over the country of trees having as many as 75 to 90 blooms the first year after transplanting! Has been checked out and enthusiastically accepted by leading nurserymen from Georgia to Massachusetts, and from Missouri to Michigan. The bracts (petals) are oval and overlapping giving the blossoms a pleasing disk-like effect. The habit of growth is spreading. The tree tries to assume the delightful horizontal branching of native Dogwoods found growing in deep shady woods. Don't wait forever for White Dogwood to bloom. Use "CLOUD 9," and have blooms from the very first year. Budded on Transplanted Seedlings.

A few quotes from some very satisfied users of "Cloud 9":

Kentucky, April 9, 1961: "This little Dogwood (Cloud 9) measures 30 in. from the top of the ball to the uppermost twig. When it was installed in the Home Show, it had 64 buds."

Missouri, May 4, 1961: "You should see my Cloud 9. It isn't very tall, but it has 93 blossoms. It looks just like a bouquet of white flowers."

COURIER NURSERY PRINTERS, MURFREESBORO, TENNESSEE

MAGNOLIA SOULANGEANA

(Saucer Magnolia)

One of our specialties. Over 25,000 produced annually. More and more of them are being handled bare root of late years by mail-order houses and by processors. Grown from layers primarily. Prices include bloom buds on B&B plants. These are kept under refrigeration in our warehouses until time for your spring selling season. Their sales appeal is built in, because they shout for attention when their beautiful pink blossoms open in your nursery. Well branched and heavily budded. B&B plants burlapped with rot-proof burlap, securely tied to prevent loosening in the ball. Reduces losses from handling.
